

August 26, 2026

Voyageur Media Group, Inc.

Project transfer list 2026

In 2026, Voyageur Media Group, Inc., a 501c3 nonprofit organization, transferred all of its tangible assets, including active documentary projects and archival materials to regional non-profit organizations as required by state and federal law. Here is a list of the generous institutions and allied partners who have accepted our documentaries and related archives for future generations.

Voyageur Projects

Cincinnati Museum Center

"Capturing Life" (1839-1860): One-hour documentary, companion website, educational materials and digital media archive. Contact: Arabeth Balasko, Curator of Photographs, Films & Prints, Cincinnati Museum Center.

A Force for Nature: Lucy Braun: One-hour documentary, companion website, educational materials and digital media archive. Contact: Arabeth Balasko, Curator of Photographs, Films & Prints, Cincinnati Museum Center; and/or Chris Bedel, Edge of Appalachian Preserve System, Cincinnati Museum Center.

Ohio Archaeology: An Illustrated Chronicle of Ohio's Ancient American Indian Cultures: The Ohio Archaeology book, written by Dr. Bradley Lepper, is out of publication. However, the photographic archive (8 binders) used to create this landmark work has been transferred to the Cincinnati Museum Center. Contact: Bob Genheimer, Curator of Archaeology, Cincinnati Museum Center.

Searching for the Great Hopewell Road. One-hour documentary, companion website, educational materials and digital media archive. This documentary is out of publication. However, the digital media archive (external drives from over 300 Beta SP videotapes) used to create this landmark work has been transferred to the Cincinnati Museum Center. Contact: Bob Genheimer, Curator of Archaeology, Cincinnati Museum Center.

Cincinnati Nature Center

Wildlife Photographer: The Life of Karl Maslowski. Transfer agreement for Voyageur's half signed with Cincinnati Nature Center. Digital Media Archive hand off on 4/20/26 with Doug Kinslow, Cincinnati Nature Center; and Steve Maslowski.

The Myaamia Center, Miami University

Searching for the Great Hopewell Road. One-hour documentary, companion website, educational materials and digital media archive. In 2009, Voyageur provided The Myaamia Project, Miami University, with digital media from dozens of interviews with the leaders, historians and artists from seven federally-recognized tribes with historic ties to the central Ohio Valley. Contact: Daryl Baldwin, Executive Director, The Myaamia Center

The Literacy Network of Greater Cincinnati (dba Queen City Book Bank)

The Will to Read: Estel Sizemore's Story. We are pleased to report that this half-hour documentary about Estel Sizemore's efforts to overcome illiteracy and dyslexia returned home. Contact: Michelle Guenther, Executive Director, Literacy Network of Greater Cincinnati, dba Queen City Book Bank.

Meg Hanrahan Media

Sacred Space of Greater Cincinnati. This documentary is out of publication. Voyageur was unable to find a nonprofit organization willing to take on the internal image and music rights needed for additional broadcasts. The project copyright was transferred to the documentary director, producer and writer, Meg Hanrahan.

Independent Contractor Projects

Voyageur has served as an independent contractor on numerous documentary projects that are owned by the commissioning organization. Voyageur has no rights to the productions and will turn over any archival materials to the copyright holder. Here is the list of programs in this category with the copyright holder:

Ohio projects

- The Ancient Ohio Art Series: In 2014, Voyageur provided the Ohio Historical Society with the six original, framed artworks and full copyright to the art series.
- Sanctuary: The Apartment of Kathy Y. Wilson. Voyageur produced this video, which is under the copyright of the late Kathy Y. Wilson and the Weston Art Gallery.
- Kathy Y. Wilson profile. Voyageur produced this video, which is under the copyright of the late Kathy Y. Wilson and the Cincinnati Public Library.
- Marietta Earthworks Video. Voyageur produced a video for the Campus Martius Museum, which each hold sole copyright.

Kentucky projects

- The Kentucky Archaeology & Heritage Series. Voyageur has produced seven episodes in this series, which is under the sole copyright of the Kentucky Archaeological Survey at Western Kentucky University.
- The Virtual Living Archaeology Weekend Series. Voyageur produced two videos, "Pioneer Textiles" and "American Indian Textiles," which are owned of the Living Archaeology Weekend group.
- Lynch Kentucky: Oral History Project. Voyageur produced this video, which is under the copyright of the Kentucky Archaeological Survey.
- Making Archaeology Public Project. Voyageur produced two videos in this national series for the archaeological communities in Kentucky and New Mexico, which each hold copyright to the videos.